Fall Of Okinawa In Comparatively Short Time Predicted

First Army Is Now Headed For Pacific Service

War Department Announces
Veterans Of First Army
In Europe Are On Way

BELIEVE JAPS ARE DRAWING BACK

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—America's fighting First Army advanced on the road to Tokyo today as military experts expressed belief that Japan is pulling back into an "inner fortress" in the hope of avoiding some of the mistakes Hitler made in seeking to defend the European stronghold.

The war department announced that battle-hardened veterans of the First Army which killed or captured hundreds of thousands of Nazis in fighting its way across France, Belgium and Germany are heading for Japan via the United States.

Gen. Courtney H. Hodges is leading his men from one theater to another as the forerunner of the greatest strategic military shift in history. The fighting men will be granted furloughs at home before being sent into the fray in the Pacific. Some will be discharged.

"The divisions and army corps that fought with the First Army against Japan will not necessarily be the same as those that fought in Germany," the war department said. "However, enough veteran units and veteran personnel will take the field under General Hodges to insure the same vigorous assault against the Japanese as was made by the First Army against the Germans."

Meantime, belief that the Japs are pulling back into an "inner fortress" was based by military experts on the recent Jap defeat at Poochow, on the China coast, and other reverses farther toward the mainland interior.

It may be that the bitter fighting (Continued on Page Two)

Recall Soldiers From Industry

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(INS)—The War Department today announced it soon will recall nearly four thousand army personnel, who were released to fill war production jobs and break bottlenecks in output of critical war material.

It was also announced that no more soldiers will be released from the army to fill such jobs. Partial demobilization of the army will create a manpower pool of discharged veterans upon which civilian industry may draw, the department explained.

Military personnel possessing key industrial skills and now working in war plants will return to the army upon expiration of their presently authorized periods of temporary inactive duty, the war department said.

PA NEWC Observes

Some residents of the city apparently haven't lost hope that summer will arrive some of these days. PA Newc notes that awnings are being erected at downtown business places, preparatory to shedding the burning rays of the summer sun.

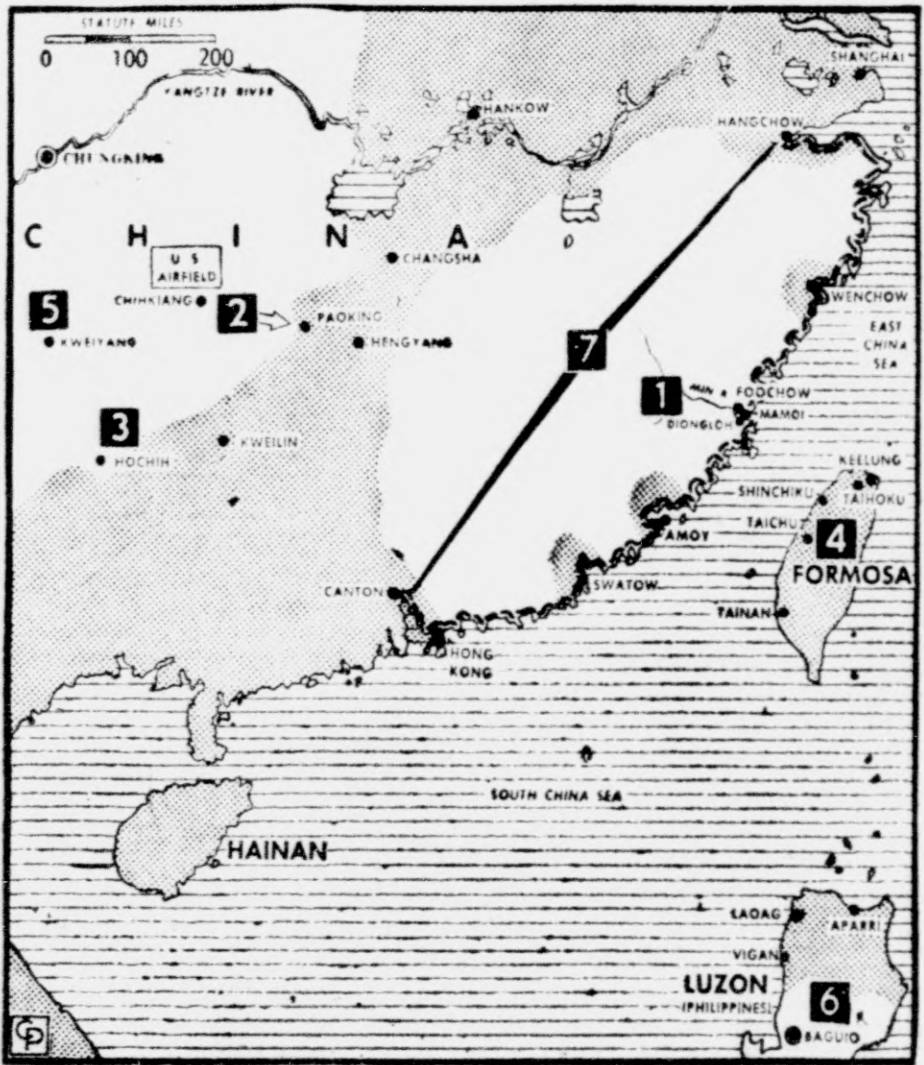

There seem to be a lot of bus riders that haven't discovered that there are rear exits on part of the buses now in operation on the city lines. They make their way from the extreme rear of the buses to the front door to get off.

Once the war is concluded there will be enough painting work in this area to keep a huge force at work. PA Newc is convinced. There are hundreds of homes and buildings that are in need of painting.

Now is the time to buy war bonds, and HOLD them.

CHINESE OPEN UP AGAINST JAPS

Chinese forces have opened up new drives against the Japs in China and the Japs apparently plan to evacuate parts of the Chinese coast where a death trap for them may be sprung when and if the Americans make an invasion of the coast. The map above shows: (1) Chinese forces liberate Poochow and Mamoi and advance to the east and southeast; (2) Chinese forces advance in this sector; (3) base recaptured from the Japs; (4) U.S. airbase established; (5) northern advance on Luzon progresses steadily; (6) extent of China coast line pockets reported being abandoned by Japs.

Report Truman Manchuria And Plans To Attend Conference Close Of Soviet Sought

Secretary Stettinius Flying Back To Washington For Talk With President

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—(INS)—President Truman will come to San Francisco for the close of the United Nations conference. It was reliably reported today as Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius prepared his own immediate departure for a day of White House consultation in Washington.

Stettinius was to leave by plane sometime during the day. He plans to spend but one day in Washington to consult with Mr. Truman on non-conference matters and be back in San Francisco by Friday.

Factors In Situation

Only the question of exact timing for the President's appearance on the scene of the world security conference appeared to remain unsettled. Two factors, it was said, make the presidential trip almost certain:

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(INS)—Gen. Walter Krueger, commanding Sixth army, Luzon, Philippines, today makes the following statement on the 7th war loan.

"All our might in men, munitions, and money will be needed in the Pacific. Every American must back the attack on Japan with his or her maximum resources in the seventh war loan."

Formosa Being Heavily Pounded By U. S. Airmen

Six-Day Series Of Raids Against Jap Stronghold Announced By Gen. MacArthur

By JOHN CASHMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, May 22.—Intensification of the powerful American air campaign against Jap air installations and industrial targets on Formosa was announced today in a communique which told also of the battering of 11 more enemy surface vessels.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's regular communique said that for the sixth consecutive day, the U. S. air armada based in the Philippines "has ranged in strength" over the Japanese military installations on Formosa, fortress island just off the so-called "invasion coast" of China.

Raid Of Large Size

The latest of the six-day series of raids was believed to be the greatest of them all, with some 340 American bombers and fighters participating. More than 100 Liberators and 20 B-25s took part along with 50 Mustangs and 70 Lightnings.

Four-motored bombers concentrated on the Keelung waterfront, while medium and fighter bombers carried out low-level strikes against railroad yards and airbases at Toyohara and Taipei. At the same time, "related installations" at Tainan, Tachen, Hsiao and Giran were raided, along with scattered industries such as sugar refineries and alcohol plants.

Results Excellent

"Results were excellent," MacArthur declared, adding that 37 tons of explosives covered dock installations, railroad yards and warehouses "well." Large explosions and (Continued on Page Two)

Recover Huge Coin Collection Taken By Nazis

ROME, May 22.—(INS)—The $20,000 coin collection of Victor Emmanuel of Italy was back in Rome in its 24 iron-bound wooden cases today after being recovered from Nazi SS Gen. Karl Wolff.

Each of the boxes which the former commander of German troops on Italy's southern front had been raiding, along with scattered industries such as sugar refineries and alcohol plants.

A post mortem conducted at the Allegheny county morgue showed death due to suffocation, the coroner reported.

Hope For Peaceful Settlement Of Trieste Situation

LONDON, May 22.—(INS)—Official British sources today expressed the belief that the Trieste situation involving Trieste and the Istrian area would be settled peacefully between the Anglo-American military authorities and Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

He himself addressed a large gathering in Zagreb, capital of Croatia, but made no direct reference to the delicate international situation created by Yugoslavian occupation of Italian and Austrian territory.

The Yugoslavs voluntarily withdrew from Austrian soil, riding in military trucks loaned by American and British military authorities.

32nd Day of Fighting
Today marks the 32nd day of fighting since the marines and army went ashore at about the middle of 62-mile Okinawa island that lies approximately 350 miles south of Japan and a similar distance north of Formosa.

War On Japan Is To Be Stepped Up 'Without Delay'

President Also Says That
European Victory Permits
Partial Re-conversion

LEND-LEASE IS OVER THIRTY-ONE BILLION

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 22.—President Truman today said the European victory will permit partial re-conversion of industry to peacetime production but every resource that is necessary will continue to be thrown into the great remaining task of vanquishing Japan.

The Chief Executive, making the nineteenth lend-lease report to Congress, disclosed that the United States, Great Britain and Canada are coordinating their plans for re-conversion in order that they will be able to devote their industrial capacities equitably to the war against Japan.

Step Up War Without Delay

Mr. Truman said the military strategy against Japan is to step up the combined Allied offensives "without delay" and to strike "repeated and increasingly powerful blows until she is defeated."

There was no mention in the report of the future of lend-lease shipments to Russia. Passages devoted to the Soviet told of the lend-lease aid given toward making possible Russia's winter offensive and final drive which, coordinated with the American and British forces, brought Germany's unconditional surrender.

Lend-lease Administrator Leo T. Crowley recently announced that shipments to nations not now engaged in the war against Japan are under review.

The President reported that in the past four years the United States has provided lend-lease aid to its allies totaling 38 billion, 97 million, 795 thousand dollars. It reached an all-time high in the months immediately preceding the Allied invasion of France.

Chinese Troops Score New Gains In Drive On Japs

CHUNGKING, May 22.—(INS)—Chinese troops hammered at Japan's overland route to French Indochina today after capturing the heavily fortified enemy supply base of Hsueh in a new Kwangsi province offensive supported by the U. S. 14th Air Force.

Other Chinese forces, virtually clearing the Min river shipping channel from Foochow to the East China coast, captured Mamoi, 18 miles east of the port city, and approached Lienkung after driving to the mouth of the Min.

American fighter planes attacked enemy supplies and rail facilities in a sweep eastward from Luochow in central Kwangsi, while strikes at river shipping destroyed 45 sampans and damaged many others in the Shiang river in central Hunan province.

NAVAL BLOCKADE CLOSES ON JAPS

Developments in the war in the Pacific point to a strategy combining a naval and air blockade of Japan that will cut her supply lines completely. U. S. fleet units, augmented by plane patrols operating close to the enemy homeland from her carriers, can cut off much of the food and supplies imported by the Japanese. The blockade, which is drawing tighter each day, may result in destroying the enemy's war potential and her desire to fight on against increasing Allied strength. When it reaches complete effectiveness, supply lines for oil, tin, rubber and iron ore from the Dutch East Indies, Malay States, and other Jap-held raw material centers, will be completely severed.

Navy Has Built 100,000 Vessels Since War Began

Eight Million Tons Of New Shipping Since Pearl Harbor Sneak Attack

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(INS)—The Navy department announced today that the 100,000th unit of new construction has joined the fleet of the United States since Dec. 7, 1941.

A. The outbreak of war the Navy had on hand 7,695 vessels of all kinds, comprising 2,680,000 tons. Since then approximately eight million tons of new construction at a cost of more than seventeen billion dollars have been added.

In addition, according to Vice Admiral E. L. Cochrane, chief of the bureau of ships, nearly 3,000 ships and craft of all kinds have been acquired and converted, adding about five million tons of the navy. In the combatant category, 1,150 ships of the line have been completed since Pearl Harbor. Landing (Continued on Page Two)

Further Delay In 'Big Three' Meeting Seen

Political Situation In Britain To Affect Program— General Election Likely Soon

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 22.—A further delay in what is considered an urgent meeting of the big three to settle major problems concerning Europe was seen today as a result of the political situation in Britain, which probably will involve a general election early this summer.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill is understood to feel that since the labor party has rejected his suggestion for continuance of the coalition government until the defeat of Japan an early election is advisable. He is believed prepared to ask King George VI for a dissolution of parliament to permit the elections to be held either the first or second week of July.

Likely too, was an immediate cabinet shakeup with the removal of key laborite ministers. It was expected Churchill might call for the resignations of such labor members as Deputy Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee, Home Minister Herbert Morrison and Labor Minister Ernest Bevin.

U. S. Forces On Mindanao Are Near Juncture

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, May 22.—A 10-mile drive by troops of the U. S. 31st infantry division in central Mindanao carried the Yanks to within one mile of Malaybalay and today this column was scarcely 25 miles from a juncture with the 24th Division to the north.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur revealed continuance of the converging American drives, saying that the 31st Division reached the edge of the airfield adjoining Malaybalay which is the capital of Bukidnon province. Seizure of the drone was imminent.

CAVE POSITIONS OF JAPS RUSHED

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GUAM, May 22.—Leathernecks and Doughboys of the U. S. Tenth Army smashed at the crumbling defenses of Shuri on Okinawa today with elements of the 77th Army Division spearheading the attack from a point 600 yards northeast of the key Jap bastion.

The 77th blasted a new hole in the defenses of Shuri after capturing high ground dominating the city and smashing ahead for a 500-yard gain. An estimated 250 to 300 Nips were killed in this sector as the Doughboys pressed on, using tanks, flame-throwers and self-propelled guns to smash enemy cave positions.

On the right American flank, leathernecks of the first division were preparing to drive down Shuri from their newly-won positions on Wana Ridge, northwest of the city.

Front line dispatches as well as official communiques told of bitter, all-out Jap counter-attacks launched against American positions and thrown back with high losses to the enemy.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported American gains in all sectors of the bloody Okinawa battle front despite murderous enemy cross-fire and repeated counter-thrusts.

Two Trainmen Are Crushed To Death Near Midland, Pa.

Engineer And Fireman Killed In Overturned Cab Following
Freight Wreck

MIDLAND, Pa., May 22.—(INS)—The engineer and fireman of a westbound Pennsylvania railroad freight train were crushed today under the cab of their overturned train in a freak wreck at Cooks Ferry a mile west of Midland.

The dead were B. J. Harris, engineer, and P. A. Hendrickson, fireman, both of Crestline, O. The company reported.

A telephone pole 35 to 40 feet long that had fallen from an east-bound freight car caused the wreck by becoming wedged in a switch, railroad officials said. Cables holding a shipment of 100 poles became loosened in some unknown manner, they added, when the east-bound train reached Conway from Crestline only 13 poles of the shipment remained.

BATTLE OF OKINAWA GREATEST IN PACIFIC BELIEVED NEAR END

Attacking have been the 10th American army's six divisions, three of which are marine and three army. This force adds up to somewhere in the neighborhood of 90,000 men.

The stubbornness and severity of the Japanese resistance is attested by the fact that an average of more than 1,000 soldiers of the Mikado have been sent daily to join their ancestors since the Okinawa action began.

Largest Losses

Meantime, American casualties up to last Thursday, total 30,526, the heaviest losses sustained by American forces in any of the campaigns of the Pacific war to date.

At Casino the rock of the mountain was honeycombed with secret passages constructed in medieval times. This enabled Nazi machine gunners to find shelter from the heaviest air barrage of the war and come out fighting.

On Okinawa, the coal rock of the Naha-Shuri-Yanabara line is honeycombed in a similar way with a myriad of passages. Many of these radiate from Shuri. Capturing the line so it will stay captured involves clearing out these passages one by one.

Marines and Doughboys of the Tenth Army pushed through rugged terrain to within only a few hundred yards northwest of Shuri. This is the mainstay of the enemy's Naha defense line.

Turner made this statement to International News Service War Correspondent Julian Hartt, adding that the Japs "seem to have about their last reserves in the battlefield."

Meanwhile, other troops stood searchlighting 100 yards directly north of the fortress town after capturing Taira-Machi, outpost of Shuri's main defenses, and still more Yanks menaced the stronghold from the northeast.

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz described the battle which raged Sunday night and Monday. His command told of frantic Japanese resistance with counter-attacks.

Nips disguising themselves in U. S. Marine uniforms—and acknowledged at the same time that enemy aerial counter-thrusts damaged five U. S. light naval vessels.

Counter Attacks Crushed

Three Japanese counter-attacks were crushed, one each by the First and Sixth Marine Divisions and another by the 77th Army Infantry.

Seizure of Sugar Loaf Hill, to the northwest of Shuri and dominating the approaches also to the 800-yard surge by the American Leathernecks who rammed to within a few hundred yards of Shuri.

The First Marines repulsed attempts by three groups of Jap suicide troops, who—with satchels filled with explosives strapped to their bodies—sought to knock out the flame-throwing and artillery-bearing tanks used by the Yanks.

Sixth Marine Division troops repulsed the other Jap counter-attack which was carried out by 400 to 600 troops. Half of the charging Nips were slain, and among them were many wearing Leatherneck uniforms and carrying U. S. weapons.

Jap Planes Shot Down

Nimitz said that the 96th Infantry Division troops within rifle firing distance of Yonabaru on the east coast were "making gains." Their way, however, was covered by "intense interlocking fire" from Jap machine guns.

The U. S. Pacific fleet, supporting the ground operations with shelling and bombing by carrier aircraft, was raided by 35 Jap airplanes Sunday evening. Though 35 enemy planes approached, only nine returned toward their bases.

"The Japanese Domei agency claimed that all told nine U. S. vessels were "either sunk or heavily damaged."

The peak of new construction deliveries was reached in May, 1944, when 4,506 vessels and craft were delivered, representing 411,237 tons. For the year of 1944 a total of 3,213,111 tons of new ships and craft were completed.

According to Cochrane, the total for 1945 is not expected to fall far below the 1944 figures, but thereafter the naval building program will drop off sharply.

Maintenance activities, however, will continue to increase.

The Cairo declaration, signed by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, December 1, 1943, promised the return of Manchuria to China and the independence of Korea "in due course."

Stalin was not a party to the agreement, since Russia wished to avoid discussions with China which might impair her neutrality with Japan.

But now that Russia has served notice to terminate that neutrality pact, diplomats feel the time is ripe for Stalin to join in a statement of purposes regarding territory to be stripped from the Japanese.

Problem Faces Japan

With the end of the European war, Japan faces the certainty that Allied forces dwarfing in numbers and equipment those hitherto employed against her in the Far East will be unleashed for redeployment.

There is also the ever present threat of amphibious operations against the main home islands. Reinforcements from the mainland may be required to meet them.

Observers in Washington do not believe the full force of Allied might in the Orient will be felt for some time.

Meanwhile, however, the emphasis of American and Royal Air Force bombers can be accomplished in a short while. In the Mariana it has

Avalon Legion Quarters Burn

"Surrey with the fringe on Top"

Here's a new combination of Sherman might and mobility, plus the devastating power of rockets! Seeing it for the first time, an excited G. I. yelled, "Look!... Here comes the 'surrey with the fringe on top!'"

Now, however, in addition to the tank's regular fire power... and in a matter of seconds... these rockets can throw a withering barrage like that of massed artillery against enemy tanks, field guns, pillboxes... any military obstacle. For each 38-pound 4½-inch rocket it carries has the explosive force of a 105 mm. shell.

Many American tanks have added this rocket launching equipment. It increases their destructive power tremendously. And these electrically controlled rockets can be launched either singly or in clusters as the situation warrants.

Chrysler Corporation is an important source of both members of this winning "team." Since Pearl Harbor we have delivered more than 23,000 tanks to the Allied Forces. We have also produced over 250,000 4½-in. rockets for the U.S. Army in the brief span of several months.

Crucial Year For Autos

All indications are that the next twelve months will be the most crucial of the war for automobile transportation in the United States. Motorists who can hardly wait to buy a new car should assimilate these facts:

The announcement of the Petroleum Administration for War that it expects shortly to authorize a substantial increase in gasoline rations for holders of A cards.

The increased output of tires for civilian motorists.

The War Production Board's estimate, "on the basis of available information," that 200,000 passenger cars will be produced late this year and that production can be stepped up to 400,000 cars in the first three months of 1946.

The expected increase in gasoline rations is expected to be one gallon a week, which would permit every car owner to drive approximately two more miles daily, but the allotment of new tires is only for C and B ration holders. It will be a long time before new cars are available for anyone except drivers with high priorities.

That is to say, the nation's A ration drivers, who are alleged to number 68 per cent of all motorists, can get a trifle more use out of their cars shortly but have no prospects of tire or car replacements. How they use their cars is therefore important. How C and B drivers use their cars is also important, because even in their cases there will be by no means enough replacements to go around.

In line with this situation is the urgent appeal of John L. Collier, special director of the WPB rubber programs, for strict observance of the 35-mile-an-hour speed limit in the warm months ahead in order to save tire wear.

Collier said that production of new tires will continue to run behind demand and that it will be impossible to meet military and essential civilian transportation needs for many months. He pointed out that tire wear is 50 per cent greater at 50 miles an hour than at 35. He asked governors of all states to urge civilians to rededicate themselves to the 35-mile limit.

In view of the need for keeping all available cars on the road to prevent transportation breakdowns, it is a rededication all motorists ought to be willing and eager to make.

Suicidal Stupidity

The Jap war machine teaches a young student the rudiments of flying, seals him in a plane and sends him on a suicide mission against American ships. It hops up a young soldier with crackpot patriotism, straps his body with explosives, and sends him hurtling into the American lines. This country, on the other hand, is constantly improving equipment with a view toward saving more lives and planes and ships.

The Jap suicide pilots cause serious damage—when they hit. The suicide infantrymen do likewise—when they reach our lines. But whether they succeed or fail a life is expended in both instances and, in the first, a plane is lost as well.

American pilots sink ships, too. American infantrymen have wiped out half-dozen and dozens of Japs single-handed. And in the majority of such cases they have lived to fly and fight another day.

The Jap is not only inhuman, he is also inefficient.

'Battle Nerves' Overdone

The Army newspaper Stars and Stripes has taken an editorial crack at the "psycho-neurosis fad." While admitting the value of reputable psychiatrists in authentic mental illness, it claims that every screwball with thick lenses and a long haircut is setting up shop as an expert on the returning veteran.

The service paper's accusations may be a bit sweeping, but its warning is timely. Somehow the feeling has grown up that every man who has seen combat is verging on psycho-neurosis. Families have been warned to watch for symptoms in returned veterans. All this might well invite a boom in postwar psychiatric quackery.

Certainly most young men are going to be affected by exposure to the grim business of killing. Many are going to be noticeably changed. But all the changes will not be pathological.

It families will avoid the preconceived suspicion that their returning servicemen is neurotic simply because he has been in combat, we doubt that the psychiatric experts will get very fat.

Warning For Future

Berlin is described now as a "ghost city of the dead." It is a true picture and one that might well be kept in sight and memory for a thousand years, as some of the dead cities of Asia have been. And there might well be a great sign-board set in the middle of that wicked city, in letters never to be erased, saying: "Here died Germany for her sins against civilization, wicked and unrepentant."

It would be true, and it might also be useful. For such a memorial might gradually drive into the minds of the deluded German nation the grim truth of what her arrogance and crime have done to this modern world—just at a time when Germany and all other nations were in position to enjoy the blessings of the finest civilization ever developed on this planet.

The misled Germans threw away their heritage, and now must recover it slowly and painfully through years of retribution, while the rest of the world marches on. Eventually she, too, may be welcomed into the fold of repentant sinners and enjoy the benefits of a true civilization which places humanity above brute force.

Horn Of Plenty

Whether an artist should be realistic or permit his imagination to have free play is a controversial subject. Ordinarily the housewife would regard this topic as something academic. But when she looks at the red stamps in her ration book, she may be inclined to accept their artistic treatment as a sort of personal challenge and immediately state her views.

The artists who illustrate the ration books have utilized various conventional designs. One stamp depicts an airplane, another is embellished with a head of wheat. The red stamp, however, is decorated with the horn of plenty. Running out of this overflowing container are the innumerable products for which the stamp may be exchanged.

Meeting the housewife's eye in this design are objects that suggest apples, oranges or pumpkins, foods that do not require red stamps. There the artist used his imagination, or the license that goes with his profession. He did not portray steaks, pork chops, bacon, butter or other fats. Perhaps they are just behind the apples, oranges and pumpkins. At any rate, the housewife does not find them available when she offers one of these red horn-of-plenty stamps in exchange for the sort of food her family likes to eat.

Big Three Meeting Further Removed

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Because of a decision taken when Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden passed through Washington on his way back to London a week ago, the next meeting of the Big Three is further in the future than has been generally assumed.

Although this means that settlement of such hot issues as Poland is to be postponed, it seems on the whole a wise decision. The background is extremely interesting. It stems from some of the unhappy consequences of the Yalta conference.

General And Vague Terms

At Yalta the three heads of state—Churchill, Stalin and Roosevelt—reached agreement on certain objectives, and expressed that agreement in a communique released at the end of the conference. The language of that communique was a condensation of the long discussions that took place and inevitably, perhaps, was phrased in general and even vague terms. That was true of the declaration on broadening the government of Poland.

When he returned to Moscow, Stalin was apparently confronted with the suspicions of certain of the men around him. In the Soviet Politburo and among the top military are those who know even less about the western world than Stalin himself. They have been conditioned by the mistrust and the double-crossing of the "thirties that led up to Munich and the Russian-German pact of 1939.

Now, naturally, these subordinates do not come to Marshal Stalin with open criticism; but they do chip away at the end result. Under this pressure, Stalin tends to move away from the original commitment.

Explanation Given

That is the explanation here of why it has been possible to disagree so sharply over what was supposedly fixed once and for all at Yalta. Those who have read the minutes of the Yalta discussions say that there was never any intention to give the western Poles the vote power on who should come in to "broaden" the Polish government. This last is, in effect, what Stalin now claims.

In order to try to avoid such backbiting after the next conference, it was decided during Eden's brief stop here to attempt to get a fairly clear understanding beyond on certain major issues. The hope is that Stalin and his advisers can then thresh them out in a private session, rather than to "broaden" the Polish government. This last is, in effect, what Stalin now claims.

Washington and London want an understanding especially on two of the thorniest issues facing the three powers. One is war criminals and what is to be done about them. Russian suspicions of this sort are deep-seated. At the Tehran conference, Stalin proposed a toast to the destruction of 50,000 German staff officers as a way of forever breaking German military might. Churchill refused to join in the toast. Jokingly, Roosevelt said that perhaps they could make it 49,000 and agree, and the incident passed over.

Deepens Suspicion

But trivial as this was, it served to deepen Kremlin suspicions of British intentions with respect not merely to the obvious Nazi criminals, but to the top planners of world conquest who used Hitler as their tool. The Russians have never participated in the War Crimes commission.

One reason Eden hurried back to London was to work out a specific plan on war criminals, in cooperation with the Soviet Union, if that is possible. It is an extremely tough question, and the confidential telegrams are now flying back and forth between Moscow, London and Washington.

The second issue is Austria. The Western Allies have not been permitted to send diplomatic missions into Vienna. The Soviets have set up a provisional Austrian government without consulting either London or Washington. While it is a moderate government, with Communist members in the minority, nevertheless the action ignored even the convention forms of cooperation with the Allies with whom Russia has fought the war.

It is true, of course, that when the British were setting up a provisional government in Greece, the Russian painful consequences, the Russians did not interfere in any way. There was no indication that they even knew what was going on. The Soviet representative on the Italian Armistice commission took only a passive part in the negotiations that led up to formation of a provisional government for southern Italy. But Russia was represented in Italy, and the Western Allies would like at least reciprocal courtesy in Austria.

Questions with so many implications cannot be settled overnight. That is why the next meeting of the Big Three may not come until mid-summer. The hope is, however, that the next conference will take place against a broad background of understanding and that therefore the agreements finally reached will be more lasting.

The State Police Say:

You are entitled to one-half of the highway, but don't take it out of the middle. The Vehicle Code requires the drivers of vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass each other to the right, each giving the other at least one-half of the main traveled portion of the highway, failure on the part of many drivers to comply with this section of the Vehicle Code has been the greatest single cause of accidents in Troop D area.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:57. Sun rises tomorrow 5:58.

People who are always giving a piece of their mind never seem to run out of it.

The postal employees are to get a raise in salary. We sure are in favor of that.

To have a friend we must be a friend.

GOING STRONG

Today's fable has to do with the wit who put up a sign in his store window saying: "I will give $5000 to any man who is contented."

Right off the bat a man walked in and announced that he was contented.

"There's nothing that you want at all," then?" asked the wit.

"Nope," said the man. "Which reminds me that I don't even want that $5000 you're offering."

Ordinarily it is foolish to take a professional fool seriously.

There is one guy you can't fool. It's the guy you meet in the looking glass every morning.

One way to win an argument is not to answer back.

Riches can be concealed, but poverty advertises itself.

Just to remind you of the one you may have heard 25 years ago: A young farmer went into a store to get some feed for his hogs, and was waited on by a new clerk, a young lady.

"I want some shorts for my hogs," the farmer said.

"Oh, you're one of those smart guys," the lady clerk retorted.

"Next, I suppose, you'll be coming in here for some brassieres for your cows."

BE VERY CAREFUL

Words are wonderful things. A few of them strung together convey thoughts, give inspiration to many, and help fill newspapers. You should be very careful of your choice of words. For if you have to eat them you want to be sure they don't give you indigestion.

You can size up a housekeeper by the condition of her bathroom.

Charity has its good points, but too much of it is apt to encourage laziness.

To think you have troubles when you have none is as bad as really having troubles.

We dropped in on a plumbing shop and overheard a man trying to buy a sink.

"This is our standard size, said the plumber. "I have some larger ones, but why is it that you want a special large one?"

"My wife's gone to visit relatives," said the man. "When she does this she generally stays away about a month, and a small sink isn't big enough to hold the dishes."

It is far better to be deceived occasionally than to be eternally suspicious of everybody you meet.

Hez Heck says "A lot o' folks should never marry, but they hev t' git married t' find it out."

Vitamin pills overcome every deficiency except the deficiency of gumption that makes you buy the things without needing them.

You can't fool all the people all of the time, but then most of us are alive only part of the time.

Buying War Bonds will help win the war.

A man we know recently had a nasal operation, and now his wife complains of an extremely new time to his snore. He says she had been used to the old one with the andante sostenuto movement, but the new snore has a con fuoco allegretto, punctuated by an arpeggio glissando which keeps her awake. Incidentally we looked up these musical terms, and they are correct.

Remember the old saying: "America has never lost a war or won a conference." The record still looks safe.

Appears That Davis Is "Taking The Rap"

WASHINGTON, May 22.—IT IS reported that Mr. Elmer Davis, head of the Office of War Information, is about to quit his job and go home. If this is his desire, it is easy to understand—especially since the sharp reversal of his most recent policy by President Truman. So far as either the Administration or the Washington correspondents are concerned, his departure will leave no aching void.

FOR MR. DAVIS has not been particularly felicitous in his relations with the Army, with Congress or the press. For a time, too, he did not even get along very well with his own organization. There were a number of resignations, feuds and frictions. Also, some of his public utterances backed on him pretty badly and he had to bear rather severe censure for some of the OWI output. Undoubtedly some of Mr. Davis's troubles were his own fault. But some were inherent in the situations he had to face and cannot be justly attributed to the impression of solemn self-esteem which he manages to convey. In his behalf it should be said that he was an exceedingly difficult job and that no one could expect to do it without criticism. This is true even though Mr. Byron Price, our chief censor, has done his difficult job with no criticism at all.

NEVERTHELESS, there seems a distinct element of unfairness about the present attack upon Mr. Davis. He is being pictured as having been "repudiated" by the President and General Eisenhower which is an idea amply justified by Mr. Truman's press conference remarks, though he certainly took pains to speak well of Mr. Davis's intentions. But what he did was to reverse abruptly and publicly the OWI policy announced by Mr. Davis of keeping from the Germans under American control any news or publications except as provided or supervised by the OWI. The theory being that for some time it will not be safe to let them read private publications from free-press countries which might give them "too much of an impression of divided policies."

THE GERMANS had, he said, to be "educated" and he made the comparison of a "sick patient" who for a time could only take what "the doctor ordered." This Mr. Davis explained, was the policy which had been decided upon by the Army and worked out in conference with the OWI. At once there was a howl from American newspapers. The policy was denounced as silly and Mr. Davis's explanation as silver. Then Mr. Truman, after conferring with General Eisenhower (Continued on Page Seven)

Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the Navy, believes the delinquent Japanese navy will actually come out of its home waters to meet the challenge of the U. S. fleet.

King, however, thinks that its strength has been so whittled down that it is only capable of sudden offensive outbreaks.

"You must keep in mind," he warns, "that while that is only one fleet element possible of power, it can be used by the Japanese in many directions, and we have to cover all those directions."

Captain observers are analyzing the recent House vote on the passage of the bill to commit the United States membership in the International Food Organization. The vote was 291 to 25.

Importance of this tally is that it marks the first test on a measure which places the United States against the post-war international network of peace organizations.

Despite the overwhelming endorsement, there may be trouble on future measures of similar importance. A vocal minority revealed that its strategy will be to slash appropriations which would implement these bills.

To Use Borneo Oil

The rich oil of Borneo, which can practically be used in ships bunkers without refinement, has been denied the Japs for some time, ever since Gen. Douglas MacArthur severed their supply line.

But the Allies will show the Japanese how to use it. The effectiveness of the Japs scorched earth policy will only delay its availability.

The job of restoring refineries for high octane is all prepared. So are the methods of transporting oil overland into central China in quantities to supply any major land battle there.

TIME AND PATIENCE NEEDED

It takes a lot of time, patience and love to be a good parent. To keep attention on values which don't perish, to treat a growing child always as a person, to appreciate and enjoy his development and to guide him and discipline one's self to these ends.

It takes time to let a lot of things for himself—feed himself, dress himself, wash his own hands and face, comb his own hair. It takes much more time than to do such things for him.

Listening To Questions

It takes time—and something more than time—to listen to what the child wishes to tell or ask, and to answer all his questions kindly, be he two, or sixteen.

It takes time to look at pictures in a magazine or book with the baby, to talk with him about those pictures. It takes time to read to the baby and young child and to listen as we should to the yarns of fancy he makes up.

It takes time to "come see what I have done," probably from another room, after the tot has put a few blocks together which he calls a house, barn or bridge, or to admire his crude but elaborate structure he has just completed after many minutes of concentrated effort. It takes time to "come see" the river or mountain "I have made," be it only a simple line or so or the "pretty picture" from a few strokes with colored crayon or dabs of paint; most of all, it takes imagination. It takes time and abundance of imagination to go with the little child into his enchanted world and visit with his fairies, and walk with them and talk with them.

Following Mother About It takes time to have the toddler follow you about the house as you go to your work, let him drag some of his playthings along and "help" mother. It takes time to let him stand beside you on a stool box or chair and actually help a bit as you prepare vegetables for the meal or mix the dough and let him have a bit of knead or mould. It takes time to let him stand by the sink to fill some pans or bottles, or pour water from one vessel to another.

It takes time and tender tones to show the toddler how to use a new toy so as not to harm it or the furniture, time to train him not to (Continued on Page Seven)

Franco Seen Carrying Favor With Allies Might Even Declare Token War On Japs King Believes Japanese Navy Will Fight

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The final defeat of Germany has caused the Spanish government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco to look to the Pacific war as a possible means of restoring itself in the good graces of the United Nations.

Already, with the last embers of the late Adolf Hitler's Reich smoldering, the Madrid government has severed diplomatic relations with Japan.

However, those close to Franco, who remain the last Axis ally in Europe, feel that this is not enough if he is to remain in power. They are advising him to bide his time and leap upon the United States bandwagon with a declaration of war against the Nipponese.

There would be popular sentiment in Spain for such a token fight. The Japanese have defiled Spanish church property in the Philippines, and thus the cause is clear cut.

Spain could furnish little more than a token force. But Franco's advisers feel that such a gesture, even at this late date, might prove acceptable to the United States and Great Britain.

They, of course, realize that the Russians always will hate the present Spanish regime.

Discipline Of Troops Will Prevent Boom In Crime, Asserts Chief

Men Of Present War Have Better Training Than After Last War, Says State Chief

By JAMES H. SMITH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, May 22—Orderly demobilization of America's well-disciplined military forces will forestall a postwar crime boom, State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm predicted today.

"There's nothing to indicate that we will have a sharp increase in crime because the men discharged from the army have received better training than soldiers released from service after the first world war," Wilhelm stated.

He added, however, that the crime rate "may go up a little."

"We have had a reduction in major crimes during the past two years but we have had an increase of at least 75 per cent in the number of juvenile crimes since the war," Wilhelm stated. "The juvenile crimes were mostly of a petty nature."

Wilhelm believed better parental care was the answer to the juvenile delinquency problem and conceded that a large part of it was the result of mothers and fathers working in war plants while children were left to roam the streets.

"If children are not permitted to run on the loose there will be less crime," he predicted. "I believe it will grow less and less when mothers return to their homes from war jobs."

While the law authorizes the State police to maintain a maximum strength of 1600 troopers, Wilhelm said the force currently musters only 1050 men. He pointed out that 303 policemen entered the armed forces while others went to work in war plants.

Because of the manpower shortage, approximately 12 substations throughout the state were closed, he added. Troopers from other stations assumed the additional duties of patrolling areas where barracks were eliminated.

The $100 Christmas savings check he brought back to New Castle with him, bought about $50 worth of clothes and got $50 change from the check. He then left for California and later went into Colorado, according to District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson and in a short time went back to Philadelphia where he was apprehended. He will be heard in June.

REPORT TRUMAN PLANS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE CLOSE

(1) The tumultuous period immediately following President Roosevelt's death prevented Mr. Truman from personally opening the conference, and (2) The world security meeting will need a "lift" after two final weeks of charter-drafting labor.

Stettinius Silent

Stettinius pointedly said no comment when asked at the Chief Executive's conference directly if the Chief Executive would come to San Francisco.

Meanwhile, delegates of the 49 United Nations serving on conference committees drove ahead at terrific pace to expedite the remaining work and wind up their meeting by the first week in June.

Under the program of expediting all committee schedules the regional security "compromise" was to be voted upon in subcommittee today while consideration was pressed on the other two big issues—trusteeship and the security council veto power.

"Wish my Daddy was home to wear it!"

THAT'S a wish your mother shares with you, little lady. She knows, however, your Daddy still has to finish the job that took him so far away from you.

But you may be sure he is counting on you and mother to keep things at home just as he left them—his civilian clothes brushed and fresh—the pup healthy and frisky—a smile on your lips and a song in your hearts.

And remember, there's one thing the Daddy you're lonesome for would especially like to have someone tell him soon in a letter. It's that everyone in your neighborhood really did something handsome this time in buying War Bonds.

Yes, we can all make it easier—mentally as well as physically—for our men and women in uniform, if we prove to them now, with extra War Bonds, that we're with them every step of the last hard miles ahead.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

handle objects roughly or dangerously, to walk and not run with them indoors, for instance, and to carry a pencil or the scissors with points down.

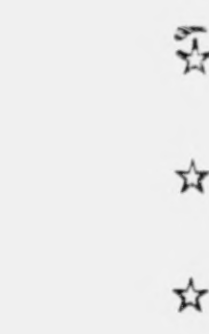

When a toddler begins to have playmates of his age, it takes a lot of time, tact and patience to win him gradually to share.

It takes time to go walking with the tot—most of us, alas, expect his little legs to fly—and let him pause to observe the ant or worm, the plant or flower, or look into the store window, keeping up our share of the conversation.

Many a lovely mother of one or several little children finds the time and soon discovers it has been expended wisely. She knows, indeed, that the way to lose time is to save it and the way to save time is to lose it. She puts first things first.

Words Of Wisdom

Pursue not a victory too far. He hath conquered well that hath made his enemy fly; thou mayest beat him to a desperate resistance, which may ruin thee.—Herbert.

"You see, I'm doing some post-war planning of my own—starting with the kitchen. The very first improvement there will be a new Gas refrigerator as soon after the war as I can get my hands on one. I'm determined to be free of noise and the nuisance of repairs—not to mention the cost!

"All my friends, who have Gas refrigeration now, make me simply green with envy when they talk—and how they talk—about its silence and how seldom it needs repairs—some say never! They explain that this is all because it hasn't got one moving part in its freezing system, so there's just nothing to wear or make it cost more to operate as it gets older.

"That's the kind of 'peace and quiet' I want in my kitchen some day."

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

said that though Mr. Davis meant well he was mistaken; that apparently he had conferred only with the military "lower levels"; that there would be no "news blackout"; and that the policy as announced by Mr. Davis was not General Eisenhower's policy and not his—Mr. Truman's—policy; quite the contrary.

NO COMMENT could be obtained from Mr. Davis following this repudiation, and none has been made yet. This leads to the feeling that perhaps Mr. Davis is "taking the rap" for someone else and is left in a position where he cannot defend himself. Certainly he is not a fool and would not have made his policy announcement without justification. Nor is it likely he either would have originated or promulgated this policy on his own. Without knowing the facts, one might reasonably think the Army originated the policy and that Mr. Davis acquiesced, with every reason to believe it was a high military decision.

WHEN the unfavorable reaction here occurred and the President took his stand, the Army withdrew from its decision and Mr. Davis was left holding the bag. Naturally, he is not in position to argue either with the President or General Eisenhower. He just had to take it, which is tough but unavoidable. If there is any other explanation it would be interesting to have it. One sure effect of the incident is to increase sentiment in favor of curtailing the OWI as much as possible now and winding it up completely as speedily as possible, an end which, no doubt, Mr. Davis desires as much as anyone.

HARRISBURG—When two men on a scavenger hunt during a party were ordered to get a lamp from a local hotel, they barged into the lobby, made their choice and assured an inquisitive bell captain they were taking the fixture to the electrician's shop for repairs. The fixture was later returned.

HAVERFORD—Dr. Otto Stader, who invented the famed "Stader splint" which permits bones to knit while in use, was not above helping the army signal corps when a local unit's sentry dog had both front legs injured in an accident. The splints were applied and the dog was later returned.

Uniform Divorce Law For Nation Is Now To Be Sought

Move Is Result Of Supreme Court Decision On Validity Of Nevada Divorces In Other States

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(INS)—

A new campaign for a federal marriage and divorce law was planned today as a result of the Supreme court's decision holding that states can refuse to recognize

Nevada divorces.

Sen. Capper (R-Kan.) announced that he would press for action on legislation for a uniform divorce law because of possible far-reaching effects of the federal decisions.

The high court's rulings, some congressional lawyers believed, might cast a cloud over millions of divorces including prominent socialists and members of the Hollywood movie colony.

The decisions also may affect thousands of divorces which have

Two Dogs In Pulaski Township

Turn Killer, Decimating Flock

Of D. L. Whiting And Son

Two big dogs turned killer and virtually decimated the flock of

72 sheep, owned by D. L. Whiting and his son Don, of the Harbor-

Pulaski road, Sunday.

When discovered, the dogs had killed 27 sheep outright and maimed

a number of others, some of which had to be killed, while some of the others remaining, it is believed, will also have to be destroyed. All told, about 40 sheep and lambs will be lost.

Mr. Whiting, his son Don, and grandson, Francis, killed the two dogs and turned them over to Howard E. McClure, dog law investigator, who is conducting an investigation in the case. Restitution, it is said, will be demanded from the owner of the dogs, who is known to the authorities.

The killing was one of the largest ever reported in Lawrence county.

The 15,900 industrial accident deaths last year, plus the 1,700 permanent total disabilities and 94,000 permanent partial impairments, to-

Pfc. Dalmer Garrett Prisoner, Returns

Pulaski District Soldier Back Home
After Being Liberated From Nazi Prison Camp

Pfc. Dalmer Garrett, aged 28 years, returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Garrett, of R. D. 2, Pulaski, Saturday after having been liberated from a Nazi prison camp.

Pfc. Garrett, who was a member of the famous First Ranger Battalion which was trapped at Cisterno, Italy, on January 30, 1944, behind the German lines, had been at Stalag 2-B in northeastern Germany. He worked on a German farm most of the time.

When the Russians started to come near the camp the soldiers were marched toward the center of Germany. Once they were turned back, when the Americans came their way. Finally, after marching about 500 miles, they were liberated on April 14 by 36th Division troops.
They were flown to LeHavre,
France, where they boarded a ship to return to the States for a 67-day

The Coal Industry of Western Pennsylvania Seeks Public Understanding of the Need for an Increase in the Price of Coal

Do Prices of Coal Established by OPA Cover the Wage Increase?

The coal operators of this district and the United Mine Workers of America have entered a new wage contract. This contract will cost the district coal industry $9,000,000 per year. The contract, approved by the War Labor Board, calls for an increase in the price of coal to cover this wage increase. The OPA, however, has granted only 14 cents per ton, which fails by some $6,000,000 yearly to cover the increased operating costs.

Can Coal Companies Continue to Pay High Wages?

Many persons may have formed the opinion that the industry had so benefited by the war that its earnings were unusually attractive. This has not been the case. Even in 1944, the most prosperous in the industry for more than 25 years, net earnings or profits represented less than 2% return on a capital investment of more than $270,000,000 in plant and equipment by the coal industry of Western Pennsylvania.

The coal industry does not want to return to the deplorable conditions that existed more than a decade ago when companies were compelled to operate at a loss and, therefore, were unable to pay wages to insure workers of a decent living standard.

The Western Pennsylvania coal industry is concerned with its obligation to maintain high wages now and after the war. It has a social as well as a financial obligation to perform in this respect.

Can the Coal Companies Continue to Pay Their Share of Local Taxes?

The coal industry is an essential part of the economic life of Western Pennsylvania communities. Tax revenues from coal companies help to maintain schools, highways and other municipal services. If the coal industry suffers, the brunt of this tax expense falls on private citizens and real estate.

What Does a Fair Price for Coal Mean to Western Pennsylvania's Prosperity?

The coal industry is deeply involved in the problem of providing jobs and maintaining employment when this nation returns to peacetime operation. To do its part it must be in position to earn at least reasonable return on its capital investment, so that it can provide employment and pay high wages to insure maintenance of a high standard of living in this district.

It asks only that the OPA reconsider its price ruling, taking into consideration that the coal industry is not just a commercial enterprise, but an integral part of this district's economy with a social and financial obligation to fulfill.

Allied Troops Move Into Area Around Trieste

By RITA HUME
U. S. Staff Correspondent
WITH U. S. FIFTH ARMY IN THE TRIESTE AREA, May 22.—The Ninth, Tenth and Twelfth Mountain Divisions of the U. S. Fifth Army, with units of the British Eighth Army, moved into positions in the mountains east of the Isonzo River today.

The movement was described by Allied headquarters as a "peaceful penetration" and was carried out without incident.

The British Broadcasting Corporation announced that Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander has gone to Trieste to review the situation there. The Allied supreme commander in the Mediterranean area was said to be accompanied by the U. S. Fifth Army's chief of staff.

Fresh American troops arrived in Trieste last night and marched through the port city to bivouac areas on the outskirts. The population and the Yugoslav troops in the area appeared deeply impressed by the arrival of these veteran American forces.

Army Cracks Down On Several Places And Warns Others

Army authorities today declared two places, one a drinking establishment and the other a restaurant, off limits or out of bounds to military personnel. The places were posted—or placarded outside and inside—with signs that prohibit military personnel from frequenting the places.

In addition, officers from the army, stationed in Pittsburgh, issued a warning to other places that they also must "clean up" their places or they will be declared off limits. Military policemen have been assigned to enforce the military order.

Members of council in co-operation with the desires of army authorities, have now in legislation, a bill which will give city police the right to take into custody any operator, manager or owner of a place which serves food or drink to a member of the armed force, found in such a place, once it has been designated as "out of bounds". The bill, it was indicated during council meeting Monday, will be adopted next week and become a city law.

Sixty-Five U. S. Bombers Reach U. S. From Europe

RADLEY FIELD, Conn., May 22.—(INS)—In the first mass redeployment of U. S. air forces from the European and Mediterranean theaters of this war, 65 Liberators and Flying Fortresses began arriving at this Army air base shortly before noon today.

The planes, previously attached to the U. S. Eighth Air Force in the Mediterranean, carried 800 enlisted personnel and 275 officers.

Coincident with their arrival from Europe, Army Air Force officials announced that the officers and enlisted men would be given immediate 30-day furloughs, then be enrolled in advanced training courses in heavier aircraft preparatory to being transferred to the Pacific.

The planes themselves, huge four-motor bombers which helped blast the German to his knees, will be turned over to the Army Air Forces service forces for overhauling and re-equipment. Those are available also will be shipped out to fight the war against Japan.

The flight, composed entirely of four-motored B-17s and B-24s, came by the North Atlantic route, stopping off at Iceland and Newfoundland.

Each ship carried a 10-man crew plus a maximum of ten passengers. The passengers included some flying personnel and some ground crew members.

To Proceed To Pacific

Relatively few of the returned airmen are eligible for discharge under the army point system. The mass of them were looking forward to leave to be followed by another great job—the destruction of Japanese war power.

The planes made their first landing in this country here. They had stopped off in Newfoundland last night and in Iceland the previous night.

Other ships from the Eighth and Fifteenth Air Forces were understood to be flying to the Pacific by other routes, some via South America and some by way of the Suez canal.

The crews of the big bombers which touched down here were not immediately available for interviews. They were caught up in the process that awaits all army personnel returning to this country from overseas, checking in with various officials.

But their good spirits were evident from the way they tumbled out of their battle craft, thumping each other on the back and patting the soil of the U. S. A. for the first time in months.

Bridge Is Memorial To Local Soldier

Pfc. R. T. Haley, Killed In Maneuvers, Paid Tribute In Dedication Of Weser Bridge, Germany

Mrs. Marian Haley, 908 Marshall avenue, has received word from Headquarters, 125th Infantry, Engineer Combat Battalion, located somewhere in Germany, enclosing a picture of a bridge over the Weser river completed by the battalion.

Mrs. Haley's late husband, Pfc. Raymond T. Haley, a member of this unit, lost his life August 31 in maneuvers in Camp Polk, La.

The communication states, "It being the desire of men in this battalion to pay tribute to those who were members of the organization, and have given their lives in the service of their country. Therefore this bridge was dedicated to the memory of those men, whom they all knew and had the utmost respect for."

Pfc. Haley was in the service five months, and at the time of joining had been for eight years an employee of the J. J. Dean Grocery company.

Million And Half Milk Cans Daily At Can Co. Plant

Rush Season Is On At American Can Co.; Need More Employees Badly At Present

One and one half million milk cans sound like a lot of cans to us but down at the American Can Company it is just one day's run and it isn't enough at that. The Can Company is in the rush season just now, up to its ears in work, figuratively speaking and the employees are working 54 hours per week in an effort to come somewhere near the demand for milk cans in 6 and 14 1/2 ounce sizes.

It almost sounds like a race between the milk cows of the nation and the can companies with the cows having a little edge just now. The local plant of the American Can Company needs men and women right now, 30 full time adult employees and thirty part time boys, from 16 years to 18.

Gives You An Idea

That gives you an idea of how busy the can company plant is. But to get back to the million and one half cans. These come from seven full time lines and two part time lines and the total isn't enough.

Not all of the cans are filled with milk for domestic consumption. The government has requisitioned 40,000,000 cans of milk for the armed forces and for the people in occupied countries. In itself that order represents a lot of milk. For further detail you can figure it out for yourself.

Fifty-four hours per week the cans are pouring from the lines milk cans for the folks in California and Texas, Paris and Belgrade, Manila and Bogota, all over the world. And if you want to have a part in get in touch with the employment office of the American Can Company.

Gen. Eisenhower Moves Swiftly Against Doenitz

PARIS, May 22.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower moved swiftly today to put the so-called "Flensburg" government headed by German Admiral Karl Doenitz out of business as an autonomous organization.

An official statement from supreme headquarters control party commanded by Maj. Gen. Lowell W. Brooks to Flensburg to impose the will of the supreme commander on the German high command.

The Soviet government reportedly has made a formal demand to the United States and Britain to terminate what Moscow considers an intolerable situation in which former Nazi naval and military leaders are conducting a sort of rump government in the defeated Reich.

Hear Soldier Son Freed In Germany

I haven't very much to say except that I am free and happy. It was our old company that liberated us. I don't think you will be able to write yet, anyway will be home soon."

On February 7 a report was received from the war department that Cpl. Nestorek was missing January 15 and no word has been received since until this letter today.

Cpl. Nestorek enlisted in the service 2 1/2 years ago, and went overseas in October. He was attached to the 14th tank division, 47th battalion, and will be 20 years of age in August. He attended Shenango high school.

Soldier Lives For Period On Roots

Word from headquarters 33rd Division on Luzon, in Philippines states: "Jungle training in Hawaii and New Guinea came in handy for a company of the 151st infantry including Pfc. Paul V. McKinley of Mahoningtown, which was cut off from supplies and communications for five days in Luzon's dense tropical area."

"Taught jungle living in those countries before entering combat, the unit survived the period of eating roots and herbs. Although weakened by lack of food, the company continued its march until contact was re-established with a battalion patrol. Suffering no losses, the unit completed its mission in searching out pockets of isolated Japs who had fled deep into the jungle."

Pfc. McKinley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. McKinley of Vance Road, Willow Grove. He joined the armed forces January 1943, and was in action with the 38th Division for Zie Zag pass and in the liberation of Batavia.

Escaped Convict From Philadelphia Recaptured In Ohio

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—(INS)—Quake City police today awaited the extradition of Theron King from Ohio to face charges of shooting Detective Fabian Bailey as well as robbing more than $450,000 worth of money in Philadelphia, Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties.

The youthful escaped convict, dubbed the "Phantom Burglar," was captured Saturday in Cincinnati. Although refusing to waive extradition and voluntarily return to Philadelphia, he was reported by police to have given them a detailed confession.

Police quizzed him as confessing he shot the Philadelphia sleuth on April 2, when Bailey approached him and asked for his draft cards. The confession went on to say that he then ran from the scene and took a trolley car to Chester, where he threw the king into a creek.

Police said King walked to Upland from Chester and obtained $40 from his former wife and secured another revolver.

Cincinnati and Dayton police have waived their claims on King.

FIRST ARMY

Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army, now being redeployed to the Pacific, is again proving that it is first in more than name only.

Besides being first to be shifted from the European theater to the war against Japan, the "Famous First" has a number of other "firsts" in its notable record.

It was the first to cross the Rhine, at Remagen, and first to establish contact with the Russians at the Elbe river.

Although it did not go into combat as an army until the Normandy invasion, its paratroopers were first to land on the continent, parachuting into France before H-hour or D-day.

In addition, several units subsequently attached to the First Army were among the first to participate in the original landings in North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

The "Famous First" has been under Gen. Hodges' command since August of 1944. Gen. Hodges, who was first assigned to the European theater in March 1944, took over the First Army when Gen. Omar Bradley, its former commander, was placed in charge of the 12th Army Group in France.

SPARTAN TRACK STAR, FAMILY

Pirates Thump Giants 5 To 2; Lombardi Stars

CARDINALS HAND DODGERS DEFEAT

By LES CONKLIN

(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, May 22.—(INS)—Ernie Lombardi, gaudy-garbed catcher of the New York Giants, loomed today as the new home run king of the major leagues. By hitting his eighth and ninth circuit clouts of the season against Pittsburgh last night, the backstop with the long nose and the big feet took a clear lead in the home run derby. He has two more than his teammates, Mel Ott and Phil Weintraub, and Vern Stephens, the American League leader.

Lombardi, whose improvement has been a tremendous factor in keeping the Giants in first place in the National League, also has driven in 27 runs and leads both circuits in that specialty. Last season he knocked in only 58 runs all year and hit only one home homer than he already has compiled during the 1945 campaign.

Pirates Start Hitting
His two homers last night, however, represented the sum total of New York's attack against Pittsburgh. The Giants got only four hits off Max Butcher, who has been a pain in the neck to them for six years, and the Bucs won the game easily, 5 to 2.

The hits of Johnny Barrett and Jim Elliott off Andy Hansen and Rube Fischer carried the Pirates to victory. They scored three runs in the first inning on a walk, Barrett's triple, O'Brien's double and a fly by Elliott. Elliott's hit scored Barrett in the third, and the other run came in the seventh on another timely poke by Elliott.

The world's champion St. Louis Cardinals closed in on New York and Brooklyn by downing the Dodgers, 4 to 0, behind Bill Donnelly's seven-hit pitching. Marty Marion, premier shortstop, returned to the card line-up and hit a double and a single.

Donnelly helped win his own game with a double, while another double by Kuroski sent in two more runs. Tom Seaver and Curt Davis pitched for the losers.

First hole-in-the-ground of the year on the Penn State golf course was scored by an army flier home on furlough.

Former Pro Grid Star Given Medal

Lieut. Col. Delbert Bjork, Formerly Of Chicago Bears, Cited On Okinawa

CHICAGO, May 22.—(INS)—Friends of Lt. Col. Delbert J. Bjork, formerly a tackle on the Chicago Bears professional football team, learned today he recently was awarded the bronze star on the front line for heroic achievement in the capture of the famed "Hill 178" on Okinawa.

The award was made by Maj. Gen. Arch V. Arnold, commanding general of the 7th Infantry Division. Col. Bjork led his battalion to the last ridge on the hill in the face of heavy Jap mortar and artillery fire, the citation said.

Col. Bjork was drafted by the Chicago Bears in 1936 after starring in football at the University of Oregon. He entered the army in 1939 as a commissioned officer. His home is Atonia, Ore.

Michigan Favored In Coming Meet

Illinois Real Challenger To Wolverines, Kelley May Defend Half-Mile

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., May 22.—(INS)—Coach Leo Johnson of the University of Illinois track team said today Bob Kelley may not defend his quarter mile championship in the 45th Western Conference track meet in Memorial Stadium, Champaign, next Saturday.

Kelley has not completely recovered from a pulled leg muscle. Johnson said the star runner undoubtedly would defend his title in the half mile, which he ran in 1:54 last year, and would decide in a day or so whether to defend his quarter mile championship or to run in the mile.

The decision rested on Kelley's ability to travel at top speed in the quarter. If he is in shape by Saturday he and his teammate, Marcel Gonzalez, would stand a good chance of taking the first two places in Illinois in the event, although Dick Forrestal of Michigan will be a dangerous contender.

Michigan remained the choice to win the team championship with Illinois at the challenger.

Pirates Arrange Postponed Games

PITTSBURGH, May 22.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates will play seven games in four days in mid-August to pick up early games postponed by bad weather, according to schedule changes today announced by the Bar management.

The Frischmen will play double-headers in Boston July 6 and August 14 in New York June 27 and August 15, the management said.

This means the Pittsburgh club will play Boston a Sunday double-header August 12, a single game on the 13th, a double on the 14th and go to the Polo grounds on the 15th for another double bill.

Eagles Bowlers Banquet Thursday

The Eagles Tenpin Bowling league having conducted another successful season on the hardwood alleys, will gather at the Eagles club on South Jefferson street at 7 o'clock on Thursday evening for their annual banquet and election of new officers.

All members of the league are invited to attend the banquet and enjoy the fellowship of the evening. Some pleasant surprises are in store for the bowlers.

JOHNSTOWN—Highway department employees over 60 years of age will not be displaced when war veterans are re-employed in jobs similar to those held prior to military service. State Secretary John U. Shroyer told the Cambria county highway safety organization.

TWICE ABOARD Kentucky Derby winners in five tries, Eddie Arcaro, the hard-hitting Kentuckian who is ranked with the great jockeys of all time, will be seeking that elusive third Derby winner when the all run for the Roses is made in Louisville, June 9. Only two men in all Derby history which now dates back 71 years, have been able to boot in three winners. They are Isaac Murphy, a Negro, who turned in victories in 1884, 1889 and 1891, and Earl Sande, who was astride the winner in 1923, again in 1925 and a third time in 1930. Arcaro, who "almost" scored the triple in 1942 when he had his choice of two mounts from the Greentree stable, picking Devil Diver over Shut Out and then Shaw Shut Out win it with W. D. Wright aboard, is expected to ride the Greentree Stable colt, Dockstader, in the 1945 renewal of the Blue Grass classic.

If Dockstader doesn't go, it is expected Arcaro will be aboard some other horse as he is a much-sought-after rider. Last year Arcaro had a second chance at the triple when he was astride Star Up, who went off as the 7-5 favorite but finished third behind Pennine. Arcaro, now 36, is a native of Newport, Ky. He has been riding horses for many years and although he has been aboard many stakes winners, he never has won the national jockey championship. Arcaro finished fifth among the nation's riders last year although he ranked second to Ted Atkinson according to the amount of money won by their mounts.

Superstition plays a role in sports. Frank Chance of the Cubs always slept in Berlin No. 13. The late Jimmie Dime always wore a certain sweater which was much the worse for wear. However, he wouldn't go into a corner without it. Once upon a time he introduced Batting Terry to Maud De Audin, actress, who had just arrived from Europe. She presented Terry with a necklace. "You'll always win, if you wear it," she said. The first night Terry failed to wear the tie to a fight club he was defeated. We once loaned Paris Kid Coney a pair of light ring shoes. He figured them good luck. He won every time he wore 'em. After Coney returned the shoes they were loaned to Tommy Jones. He wore them the first night he refereed in the Jolly bowl. Tommy tripped and broke an ankle. Many ball players own their own bats and dislike anyone else using them. How many guard their glove like a War Bond?

There are water dogs in the Slippery Rock creek. We watched a trout fisherman, using worms, pull out one a foot in length. They look like a Salamander. Tony Cuccinello of the White Sox is the only member of the National League All-Star team of 1923 who is yet active in the majors. Lieutenant-Commander Jim McMillen, Chicago Bear griddler, is yet in New Caledonia. His boss, Commander George Halas is on the staff of Admiral Nimitz. People who brood over trouble sometimes hatch more. Usually people who never did anything for themselves demand generosity from others. Senator H. J. Jaspian, Philadelphia, charges the Jose Basore-Sugar Robinson boxing draw in the Quaker City was a "wail". When angry wrestling fans at Springfield, Mo., yelled for their money back police had to disperse 'em with tear gas.

Over here one frowns upon travel for athletes yet in Europe, the boiling pot for war reports of sports events trek in daily. Dispatch now says Olympic stadium, Amsterdam, scene of the 1928 Olympiad, will reopen May 28 with soccer, bicycling and other athletic events. As senator, Happy Chandler drew $10,000, but as baseball czar he will receive $60,000. Baltimore plans a stadium to seat 100,000. Santa Anita handicap is carded for June 30. John Marsch, Chicago, is a contractor, who owns Free For All and two other horses. Occupy and Occupation. Raynor is not a derby nominee. In the last 39 of his 60 races Whirlaway was the favorite. Bing Crosby and Boo Hope who cheer up soldiers are to meet in golf matches to aid the fund for hospitalized servicemen.

Dubber Dans To Organize League

A new golf league is being formed to play at the Castle Hills course on Monday nights. The league will be known as the Dubber Dan league and will have possibly four teams of four men each. The first meeting of the proposed league will take place at the Castle Hills clubhouse Monday night at 8 o'clock. Any young man in New Castle up to 60 years of age interested in the idea of a Dubber Dan league is invited to attend the meeting.

STOCK CARP IN LAKE WEDNESDAY

Carp will go into Cascade Park lake at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday, according to Lawrence County Sportsman's association Secretary Harry Helmick. He said the shipment would arrive at the New Castle post-office shortly after 11:15 a. m. and members of the organization who wish to help stock the fish will find their service appreciated. The carp stocking is for the benefit of service boys undergoing reconditioning at Deshon hospital annex. Other fish remain to be stocked. Fishing is closed at the lake to all excepting the service men at the hospital annex.

Church Golfers Appear Hopeful

New Castle Church Golf league players have got their fingers crossed for this Thursday night at the Castle Hills course. After being rained out three Thursdays in a row, the members are mighty anxious to get started on the 1945 schedule.

The matches originally carded for Thursday, May 3, will be played this coming Thursday (weather permitting). Not since the church league was organized about 12 years ago has it had three league matches in a row postponed.

Morgan Jones, Sr., president of the church league, has suggested that the postponed matches be played off at the Castle Hills course on Monday nights, in order that the league may get back on the original schedule.

Three members of the Penn State athletic staff have served Uncle Sam as Army sports consultants.

Softball League Meeting Wednesday

The final meeting prior to the start of the 1945 Industrial Softball league season on May 28 will be held at the "Y" Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, it was announced by President Joe Factor today.

There are prospects of an eight-team league at present with the Deshon Annex soldiers and Aluminum company strong possibilities to take out franchises Wednesday, along with the Shenango Pottery, Lockley Machines, Willie DeCarbos, Standard Steel Spring, P.R.R. and Universal Pottery.

LETTERKENNY—Officials at the army's huge ordnance depot have cut absenteeism to the bone by providing "on the spot" medical service for employees ranging from first aid treatment to heat therapy.

Lady Nearly Choked While Lying In Bed—Due To Stomach Gas

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores here in New Castle.

By DR. W. A. WOMER City Health Superintendent

STOP, LOOK AND MISS 'EM

Anyone who has occasion to look into a large number of mouths is amazed at the multitude of defective or missing teeth.

It seems that all this calamity is mostly due to neglect. People do not look for cavities and have them repaired when they are small. They put it off. They allow the holes to get larger. Then they wait a while longer.

When they finally go to the dentist it is too late to save the tooth. It would be much better to have a good look occasionally. The least little hole should be plugged right away.

There are plenty of other ways to lose teeth. Cavities should be cared for.

V-E DAY and our Waiting Lists

We had quite a time of it here at the telephone company on V-E Day . . . a solemn time and a gay time.

We felt like showering telephone service on all those thousands of understanding people in homes and business offices who have been waiting—and waiting—and waiting.

We wanted to rush through the city and the country, digging the miles of ditches, laying the miles of cable, building the hundreds of buildings, and completing the mammoth job of fitting all new and essential central-office equipment into the living mechanism of the telephone system . . . all in a single day.

Then we realized that both solemn gratitude and great rejoicing could lead to wishful thinking, and that the end of Nazi Germany was not the end—not by a Pacific-Oceanful—of our waiting lists.

Let's look at the mathematics on telephone instruments alone. They're only five percent of telephone equipment . . . only one item among the switchboards, the conduits, the cable, the wire, the 101 other things that we must have to end our waiting lists.

1. The waiting lists on V-E Day included 125,000 Pennsylvanians.
2. While we have been receiving telephone instruments at the rate of 2,500 a month, the waiting list is growing at the rate of 5,000 a month.

In short, it's not a promising picture.

But it may be, as Japan squirms under the lash of concerted attacks, that we'll do better than we think. We sincerely hope so. We don't like to keep anyone waiting for telephone service.
